

Initially, authorities provided no clear explanation as to what caused the blast in the port, only that it was linked to a fire that led to the explosion of several containers.

A powerful explosion ripped through the Shahid Rajaei section of Bandar Abbas port--Iran's largest container hub--on Saturday afternoon, killing at least 25 people and wounding more

The cause of the explosion remains under investigation. A source with ties to Iran's Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps told the New York Times that the blast was triggered by sodium ...

The port's customs office said in a statement carried by state television that the explosion probably resulted from a fire that broke out at the hazardous and chemical materials storage depot.

A massive explosion at Iran's Shahid Rajaei port, linked to missile fuel chemicals, killed 25 and injured around 800, just as Iran and the US held nuclear talks in Oman.

Reuters has reported that a series of deadly incidents have hit Iranian energy and industrial infrastructure in recent years, including refinery fires, a gas explosion at a coal mine, and ...

A number of sources said that the explosion was caused by containers carrying sodium perchlorate, a substance used to make missile fuel. While the cause remains unclear, the tragedy ...

Iranian authorities are investigating a major explosion that struck the Shahid Rajaei port in Bandar Abbas on Saturday. The blast killed at least five people, injured over seven hundred ...

Israel has targeted missile sites where Iran uses industrial mixers to create solid fuel, including during its response to a massive Iranian missile barrage launched at Israel last October. An...

The blast at the Shahid Rajaei port happened as Iran and the United States met Saturday in Oman for the third round of nuclear talks.

Web: <https://anaelenaartistapmu.es>